Some quality lines of cattle presented at Euroa Store Cattle Sale

There were some very well bred lines among the 1400 yarded by Euroa Associated Agents for the September sale.

Cattle continued to show the effects of winter and the tight seasonal conditions at the sale, which took place on Wednesday, 5 September.

Rodwells Stock Agent, Scott Meehan said despite the recent rainfall across some drought affected regions in the north, it's too early to show or have any impact on prices in the store market.

"The market eased on some lines of cattle depending on breed and quality, but remained firm on better presented lines," Mr Meehan explained.

"Feedlot buyers were less active at the market and this saw prices for these cattle fall under current rates being offered direct to the feedlot."

Most of the 1400-head yarding remained locally and within the North East, with a few heading south to Pakenham and Ballarat.

Tasmanian buyers were present and did operate on smaller lighter weaners.

"Vendors expected a soft market, but we are quickly running out of options with prospective buyers," Mr Meehan said.

"Local feedlots are full and a lot of people don't have the pasture."
